

Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston

presents

Write Your Family History Now!

Mike Karsen

Bring Your Own Written Family History
To Display Before and After the Talk

Sunday, September 11, 2005

1:30–4:30 PM

Temple Emanuel, Newton Center (Reisman Hall)

Genealogists are very good at doing research and collecting many facts about their family, but they frequently fail to publish the results of their research. Mike Karsen will show how you can publish your findings in book formats ranging from a 30-page pamphlet to one that contains detailed biographies and places your family in historical context. Karsen emphasizes the importance of organizing your findings and sharing them as soon as possible.

Mike Karsen is a professional genealogy speaker and instructor. He is a member of the National Genealogical Society and the Genealogical Speakers Guild. Mike has spoken at state, national, and international conferences on genealogical topics and has taught classes on genealogy. He has published five of his own family histories and has inspired many others to write their own family history.

Temple Emanuel, 385 Ward St., Newton Centre, is our new meeting place. It is approximately a mile from Massachusetts Turnpike exit 17. From Newton Corner, follow Centre Street (south) to the traffic light at Ward Street. Take a left. Or from Commonwealth Avenue, go north on Centre Street to the next traffic light. Take a right onto Ward Street. Temple Emanuel is a large building a few blocks down on the left.

Admission is free for members, $5 for non-members.

Refreshments will be served.

Upcoming programs:

Oct. 16 Rhoda Miller, "How to Organize your Notes"

The Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston is a nonprofit organization of individuals interested in genealogical research. It conducts monthly educational programs.

617-796-8522

info@jgsgb.org

www.jgsgb.org