

Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston

presents

Using Maps for Genealogical Research

Ronald Grim

Monday, May 5, 2008

6:30–9:00 PM

Mezzanine Conference Room

Boston Public Library

700 Boylston Street, Boston

This event will take place on Monday, May 5, from 6:30 to 9:00 PM in the Mezzanine Conference Room at the Boston Public Library, 700 Boylston Street, Boston.

Ronald Grim will explain how to use maps in genealogical research, using as examples historical maps of Europe, the Mediterranean basin, and—the specialty of the Leventhal collection—the Boston area.

Ronald E. Grim is the Curator of Maps for the Norman B. Leventhal Map Center at the Boston Public Library. Previously he was Specialist in Cartographic History at the Library of Congress and Assistant Chief for Reference in the cartographic section of the National Archives. He has curated numerous map exhibitions and lectured widely on the use of maps in genealogical research.

The Boston Public Library is located in Copley Square. For directions, go to <http://www.bpl.org/general/directions.htm>. Use the entrance to the library's modern annex and ask for directions to the meeting room.

Admission is free.

Upcoming program:

June 8 Norm H. Finkelstein
 “American Jewish History for Genealogists”
 Annual Meeting of the JGSGB (at the Vilna Shul in Boston)

The Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston is a nonprofit organization of individuals interested in genealogical research. It conducts monthly educational programs.

617-796-8522

info@jgs.gb.org

www.jgs.gb.org