

Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston

presents

“Patterns of European Jewish Migration”

Antony Polonsky

Sunday, March 3, 2002

1:30-4:30 PM

Temple Reyim, West Newton

Have you ever wondered how your ancestors happened to come to Central or Eastern Europe, where they came from, why they migrated at a particular time? Ever wondered how many of us are descended from the Khazars, who converted to Judaism in the 8th century?

Antony Polonsky, the Albert Abramson Professor of Holocaust Studies at Brandeis University and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, will attempt to answer some of these questions.

Admission is free for members, $3 for nonmembers. The meeting will take place at Temple Reyim, 1860 Washington Street (Route 16), West Newton. The Temple is near Newton-Wellesley Hospital and the Woodland Stop on the Riverside Green Line, as well as a short ride from Route 128 at Exit 21. Refreshments will be served.

Upcoming program: Wednesday, April 10 ~ JGSGB Night at the Boston Public Library (members only)

The Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston is a nonprofit organization of individuals interested in genealogical research. It conducts monthly educational programs. For more information, call 617-796-8522 or write to info@jgs.gb.org or see the JGSGB website at www.jgs.gb.org.